MEDALS AWARDED TO NATIVE SOLDIERS IN INDIA.

NOTE.—The Naval and Military Magazine for Aug. 1896, gives some valuable information (to collectors) not generally known, with regard to Medals awarded to the Native Army in India, and particularly with reference to the clasps issued to the "66th or Goorkha Regt.," which was renumbered after the Mutiny as the "1st Goorkha Regt.," and which has an interesting variety of designations ; and also as to the North West Frontier Clasp.

As the "66th or Goorkha Regt." this distinguished and loyal corps served against the Afridis in 1853, and afterwards as the "1st Goorkha Regt." in Bhootan in 1864-6, and Hazara in 1868, and Perak 1875-6. The medals for the first three expeditions were issued about the same time ; but the men, who served in both the 1853 and 1868 Expeditions received only the bar inscribed "North West Frontier," the same as those who had served in only one of them.

Of the medals which were issued with two clasps, those for 1853 and Bhootan have the "North West Frontier" or "1853" bar above, whilst it is attached below in those for Bhootan and 1868. This is not accident, for the medals of 1853 are engraved with the recipients' names, and "66 or Goorkha Regt.," whilst those for Bhootan and subsequent expeditions have "1st Goorkha Regt." Since the Persian expedition all native frontier medals have been engraved on the edge. The "1st Goorkha Regt." is the only one which received the "Perak" clasp.

The writer of the above, a Goorkha officer and medal collector of note, has not remarked the fact that Mutiny Medals issued to that Regiment are inscribed as the "66th Goorkha L. I." (Light Infantry); and that the old Indian medal with clasp "Bhurtpoor," 1826, issued to this same regiment, is inscribed as the "Nußereë Batallion" (see Indian Army List under "1st Goorkha Rifle Regiment," and also lot 67 and note).

The following, with exceptions in lots 100 and 103, is a very remarkable series of medals awarded to native Indians.

Indian General Service Medal, one bar, Burma, 1885-7.
 (2) "Jiwana" (same recipient), 4th Sikh Infantry, as a Bhistie or man who himself carries a skin of water with troops in the field; Indian General Service Medal, one bar, Hazara, 1891, well preserved 2

* * A very interesting group as including two I. G. S. bronze medals to one man.

188 "Sepoy Kalloo Khawas, 66th or Goorkha Regt." (1) Indian General Service, three bars, Bhootan, North West Frontier (1853) and Perak (66th or Goorkha Regt.); (2) Mutiny (66th Goorkha L. I.), fine 2 - 1 "16

189 "Sepoy Luchmun Khunka, 4th Goorkha Regt." (1) Indian General Service, two bars, North West Frontier and Looshai, a most rare combination; (2) Afghanistan, 1878-80, three bars, Ali Musjid, Kabul, and Kandahar, very fine 2 - 5.15

* * The above two medals form a very rare combination. They were earned by the 4th Goorkhas only, and are much sought after by collectors.

190 "Driver Gholam Mahomed, 2nd and 4th Hazara Mountain Batteries." (1) Indian General Service, two bars, North West Frontier and Jowaki, 1877-8 (in 2nd Hazara Mn. Bat.); (2) Afghanistan, 1878-80, two bars, Ali Musjid and Kabul (in 4th Hazara Mn. Bat.), fine 2 - 2.10

* * This combination is of the greatest rarity and highly appreciated by collectors who know the services of British Indian Regiments and Batteries, and the great difficulty in securing genuine specimens. "The bars for Ali Musjid and Kabul were earned by the Queen's Corps of Guides and the 4th Mountain Battery only, though a few men of the 4th Goorkhas through force of circumstances also received it." (See Military and Naval Magazine, Dec. 96).

191 Record Group of Medals of the 11th (Prince of Wales's Own) Regiment of Bengal Lancers, late the 1st Sikh Cavalry, raised in 1857. They include a period from 1857 to 1880 inclusive. (1) "Sowar Nawali Sing, 1st Regt. Seikh Cavy." (stamped), Indian Mutiny Medal, one bar, Lucknow; (2) "Sowar Kaiser Sing, 11th Bengal Cavy." The China Medal, two bars, Taku Forts, 1860, and Peking, 1860; (3) "Sowar Data Sing, 11th Regt. Bengal Lancers," Indian General Service Medal, one bar, Umbeyla (engraved); (4) "Sowar Muhil Ali, 11th Bengal Lancers," Afghanistan, 1878-80, one bar, Ali Musjid (engraved), all in brilliant condition

* * This unique Indian Cavalry group shows the regiment as Seikh Cavalry, then as Bengal Cavalry, and lastly as Bengal Lancers, which they are now. The regiment also served in the Chitral Campaign in 1895, and in a later frontier war, so to complete the medallic record the 2nd I. G. S. medal with the bar "Relief of Chitral" and another would be required.

The Property of a Lady.

205.0 0 265 COMMONWEALTH NAVAL REWARD, 1653, known as the "BLAKE MEDAL," with loop and ring for suspension, but without a border. By Thomas Simon. Gold. Obv. An anchor, from the beam of which are suspended three shields bearing the St. George's Cross for England, St. Andrew's for Scotland, and a Harp for Ireland; near the ring of the anchor is the monogram T.S. (Thomas Simon); rev. Naval engagement; in the foreground is a ship sinking, on the stern of which is the artist's name, SIMON., and on the prow of another T.S., see Medallic Illustrations, vol. I, p. 400, no. 28, a splendid piece of medallic work, in exceedingly fine condition and extremely rare 1

* * * This is the gold medal, which was struck by order of the Parliament and presented as a Naval Reward to the Captains of the vessels which had taken part in the engagements against the Dutch, of Feb., June, and July, 1653. This particular specimen, which is probably the finest known, has been carefully preserved in the Clifton family, to a member of which it had been awarded. From the "Calendar of State Papers, Domestic Series," 1654 and 1655, we learn that in March, 1654, Captain John Clifton was in command of the ship "George," and that he reports from Stokes Bay that he had been lately plying with the fleet on the French coast. Captain John Clifton must not be confused with the John Clifton, who previously, in Oct. 1653, had been appointed Clerk of the Checks to the "George." The latter was, no doubt, some near relative of Captain Clifton, and held a subordinate position in the same ship (Op. cit. under date Oct. 18, 1653). A month later Captain Clifton again reports, this time from St. Ellen's Road (perhaps St. Helen's in the Isle of Wight), that his muster was 385 men, who were all in good order, and that he was in company with the fleet. On Sept. 14 he was in Plymouth Sound and was only waiting for a wind to set sail, and a fortnight later he was still at Plymouth with the whole fleet but was making ready for sea, &c., &c. It is very evident from the above statements that Captain Clifton had been in command of his ship, the "George," for some time, and had taken part in the above-mentioned actions, or at least in one of them, in 1653, for which this medal was awarded. A further search into the records of the Admiralty and into the genealogy of the Clifton family would no doubt clear up this point, and throw much light on the history of this distinguished member of that family ; and, at the same time, add further interest to the above medal. With the exception of the specimen in the British Museum, which was awarded to Captain Ames of the "Somerset," this is the only other officer's Blake Medal which has been identified with the recipient.
